Subject: Notice of Price Adjustment Due to Resin Cost Increases

Dear Valued Customer,

Due to the ongoing conflict in the Middle East, global energy and petrochemical markets have experienced significant disruption. This has resulted in a sharp and sustained increase in resin costs, driven by higher crude oil prices, supply chain constraints, and reduced polymer availability. Recent market data shows polymer and packaging input costs rising materially across global markets as a direct result of these conditions.

As a result, we must implement a price adjustment to reflect these increased raw material and freight costs.

- Direct containers departing from our plant on or after April 6, 2026 will be adjusted by 7 -15%.
- Inventory orders, at the moment, are not subject to the same increase as the on hand reflects the 50% tariff value and a parallel cost base to today's resin spike.

Any shipments departing our plant on or after April 6, 2026 will reflect the full cost environment.

We intend to monitor this closely and communicate heavily with our customers so that if/when resin rescinds we can look to reduce pricing.

Updated price sheets will be distributed shortly, outlining specific changes by product line. We will also provide clear communication regarding which direct container shipments are subject to the revised pricing.

We value your continued partnership and appreciate your understanding as we navigate these unprecedented market conditions. We will continue to keep you informed of any further developments.

Sincerely,

Mark Hinterlong
